

U. S. IS 'EVEN WITH BOARD' FINANCIALLY

The Government today theoretically stands "even with the board," so far as short term financing is concerned. For the first time in two years, cash in the Treasury, deferred payments on loans and taxes soon to be collected, balances outstanding Treasury certificates of indebtedness.

Assistant Secretary Leffingwell, in a statement yesterday, declared the outlook gratifying. Certificates of indebtedness, employed by the Treasury to tide the Government over between loans or tax payments, now are outstanding to the amount of $1,400,000,000. But against this $1,000,000,000 remains to be paid in on the Victory loan, and the two remaining installments of income and a profit tax, it is estimated, will exceed $400,000,000.

Officials explained that, regardless of the bright outlook, more Treasury certificates of indebtedness will have to be issued. But, it was added, they will be sold in anticipation of revenues which can be calculated closely.

The Treasury began in June to issue "limited amounts" of Treasury certificates of indebtedness to meet current expenditures. Prior to that time, regular bi-weekly issues of $200,000,000 to $300,000,000 were made. In limiting the amounts of the last three issues, the Treasury has been able to save interest on sums above its actual needs, officials said.

RIVAL TOWN WARS
ON 'SPOON SLEUTHS'

PHILADELPHIA, July 13.—War has been declared on the anti-spooning cops of Haverford township by the police in the neighboring township of Lower Merion.

Captain Donaghy, of the Lower Merion police, has served notice on Chief of Police Hallisey, of Haverford township, that he "must stay on his own side" when chasing spooners.

Peeping from behind trees, hiding in the grass and other antics of the anti-spooning police are not to be allowed in Lower Merion.

Police of Haverford township who buzz around "love bees" and collect a little "sugar" in the shape of kiss money, have recently attacked a nest of honey bees with stings.

Announcement of the third court case by persons alleged to have been caught spooning on Haverford township roads has been made. L. T. Brehm, head of a Broad street motor agency, who lives on Park road, Lanserch, has attacked his attorney, Mr. Brehm, who has been charged with bringing suit against the Haverford police for false arrest.

His suit follows closely actions brought by William Armstrong, of this city, who has appealed from a fine of $25, and Joseph R. Carson, a Federal agent, who charges false arrest for the alleged firing of a revolver on the township highways.

Mr. Brehm said he was kept in a cell three hours in the township jail at Oakmont following his arrest on a charge by Eugene Grancy, a policeman under Chief Edward T. Hallisey, of Haverford township.

Mr. Brehm was motoring on Eagle road with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Latta, a cotton yarn merchant of this city, who lives at 14 Tenby road, Lanserch. Hearing cries from an automobile approaching from behind, Mr. Brehm suspected he was being pursued by an evil-doer and put on more speed in an effort to get away.

The chase continued nearly a mile. Finally a shot came from the other car and the bullet, Mr. Brehm said, whizzed close to the occupants of his machine. He brought the car to a stop. The other car drew up to a stop. Grancy alighted. He made his way toward Brehm's party and notified them they were under arrest.

Brehm said the motorist-policeman charged him with disorderly conduct on the highway. He was taken to the Oakmont police station. That was at 10 p. m. and he remained in a cell nearly three hours.

Next, it is alleged, Brehm was told by Grancy he had withdrawn the charge and that Brehm was at liberty to go. That brought a protest from Brehm.

COLORED GIRL LIKES JAIL, WANTS TO SERVE SENTENCE

Rosa Green, colored, likes prison and her associates there so well that she has addressed a letter to District Attorney Laskey, asking him to "fire" her lawyer, disregard her motion for a new trial on a charge of robbery, and let her travel with her friends to spend two years in Atlanta.

She writes, "I am well satisfied with the sentence Judge Siddons gave me, and would like to stay in jail."

ALL PARIS WAITS
FOR BASTILLE DAY

PARIS, July 13.—With its joy over victory undiminished by the unfortunate incidents that have accompanied plans for its celebration, Paris is overflowing with thousands who await the triumphal celebration tomorrow, Bastille Day.

Friends of Marshal Joffre, who have charged the government snubbed the hero of the Marne, appear to be partly appeased. Under the pressure of public opinion it was officially announced that he and Marshal Foch together would lead the victory parade, marching the entire distance. Earlier plans made it seem doubtful whether Joffre would be asked to march over the entire route.

The crowds which have filled Paris to witness the celebration give the impression that the city's population has doubled. Hotel prices have doubled, too, but the rooms are all sold. Many of the hotels and the cafes and restaurants are closed because of the strike, leaving the streets jammed with hungry thousands.

American troops have been accorded the honor of marching at the head of the body of the parade.

DROUTH HITS TAXIS,
SO DRIVERS STRIKE

MILWAUKEE, July 13.—Prohibition is directly responsible for a strike of taxicab drivers. They assert the falling off of business following the dry law has so reduced their earnings that a flat wage of $20 a week is necessary, and reimbursement for half of the gasoline expenses.

Managers of the companies admit prohibition has made a big dent in their earnings. One estimated that business had fallen off 50 per cent. "When completely sober," he said, "nobody rides any further than the necessary have to, but in the old days a driver was good for a couple of hours anyway, and also came in for a fat tip. They are going tipless now."

HE SAVES CHILDREN,
BUT LOSES OWN SON

NEW YORK, July 13.—Steering his automobile into a tree to avoid hitting two strange children in the street, Julius Wolf, of Brooklyn, caused an accident which brought about the death of his own son yesterday afternoon. The boy, Bernard, aged nine, received a fractured skull and fractured spine, and died within an hour at the Kings County Hospital. The father was broken hearted by the result of his sacrifice.

Wolf had just swerved his car to avoid a rut in the road, when he saw the children in his path, and swerved again. He and the boy were thrown out, and the child was buried under six trunks the machine had been carrying.

NEGROES WARNED TO SHUN LONGVIEW

LONGVIEW, Tex., July 13.—Mayor Bodenheimer has warned all negroes to stay away from Longview until excitement caused by the race riots, in which four white men were injured, six negroes houses burned, and several negroes reported killed or wounded, has subsided.

Troops patrolled the streets and were bivouacked in the public square. Four negroes are in jail.

PETE, HERO DOG OF WAR,
DYING FROM N. Y. BULLET

NEW YORK, July 13.—After having survived shell shock, a deep gash made by a piece of exploding shrapnel, and many months of fighting in France as mascot of the 165th infantry, Pete—the only Scotch collie in Brooklyn entitled to wear a wound stripe on his collar—was said by his attending veterinarian yesterday to be in a critical condition as a result of two ordinary bullet wounds said to have been caused by shots from a revolver fired by Tony Summa.

Pete was brought back from France by the wireless operator on the transport Alloway, who turned him over to Charles Hampton, of Brooklyn, for safe keeping. Summa told Magistrate Geismar in the Fifth avenue court yesterday that he fired at Pete after the dog had attacked him. Summa was paroled for a further hearing July 14.

POTOMAC PARK FERRY
HOURS CHANGE MONDAY

The hours for operating the ferry from the foot of O and Water streets southeast, to "The Point," in East Potomac Park, have been changed so that one-hour trips will be made between noon and 5 p. m., and one-half hour trips between 5 and 8 p. m., with the exception that on Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, when the regular one-half hour trips will be made between noon and 8.

W. VIRGINIA EPISCOPALIANS
OPPOSE SPLITTING DIOCESE

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., July 13.—The vestry of Trinity Church has gone on record as being opposed to the proposed separation of the present territory of the Episcopal diocese of West Virginia, and the formation of a new diocese which is to be decided at a conference of clergymen and churchmen at Parkersburg, July 23. The Trinity officials favor the appointment of a bishop, coadjutor instead.
